

Supplementary Figure 4

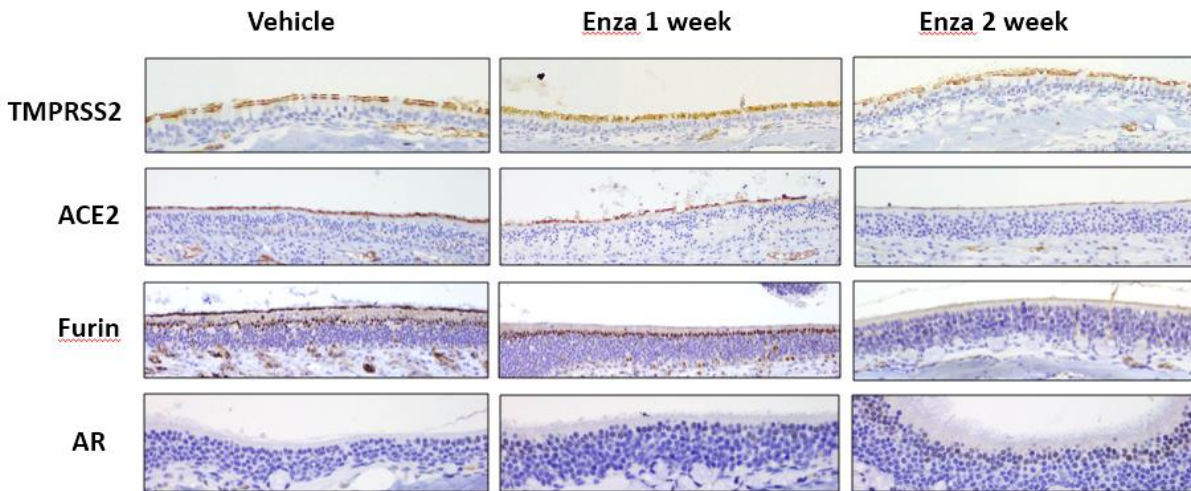

Figure 4. Androgen antagonist treatment was associated with mild reduction of expression of viral entry proteins in sinonasal mucosa in male mice. Representative images of respiratory or olfactory epithelium stained for TMPRSS2, ACE2, furin, and AR, after the mice were treated with vehicle or enzalutamide for 1 week or 2 weeks (n=4 in each group) (200X magnification).